BFF Ministry Matters

Pray BFF #326

May 11, 2019

Dear Prayer Partners,

“What is BFF ministry all about?” God has given me all sorts of tasks. The flexibility built into our missionary lives sure comes in handy. Here’s a starter list!

- Meet God and pray
- Marriage counseling
- Fill out business taxes
- Introduce BFF’s mission
- Video/audio editing
- Create graphics and charts
- Create video teaching sessions
- Book formatting for printing
- The final edit of a book
- Fiddling with web codes
- Write and post articles on the website
- Encourage BFF international coordinators
- Ten loads of scanning

Paul is scanning thousands of old articles, and papers. This is his 5th(?) trip to the barrel.

- Shift/sort download files
- Answer questions from readers
- Preach and teach in churches
- Write and finish books and series
- Answer phone calls
- Strategize BFF’s plans/future
- Write prayer letters!

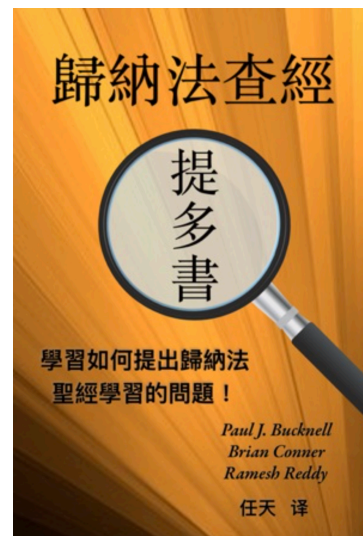

Staying focused is vital to keep on cranking out relevant and quality training resources for the world! But challenges abound! I recently realized that those books I've been trying to complete are sitting untouched. Neither have I launched the specialized online classes I had hoped. But looking back I can see many other completed projects.

For example, a fine brother offered to translate one of our books into Chinese, but since it required much reformatting, I had to spend much more time on this project. Also, I needed to re-learn how to make book covers. My good self-publisher was taken over. I could use a small staff here, especially an editor to catch up on those many editing projects.

During the rush of office events I appreciate prayers to stay close to the Lord, follow His directions, keep close to my family, and keep an eye on our house repairs.

Praise

- God has given additional opportunities to introduce our ministry.
- Thankful for insight and my son's advice on figuring out how to proceed on switching storage servers for our 100+ GB of training resources.
- So thankful that the Chinese version of the Inductive Bible Studies in Titus is now complete. Another project is done!

- There is progress on our new mobile site. (Have you visited yet? bffbible.org Some issues still need to be worked out.
- Our two sons, Daniel and Isaac, are graduating at the same college ceremony next Thursday. Congratulations to them as they pass this milestone.

Pray

- Pray for the many needs listed above, especially some international coordinators facing significant challenges.
- I hope to finish another book by the end of July. Need focus.
- Pray the completion of the new BFF website by this summer.
- Pray for Linda's health and exercise.
- Paul and Linda will be speaking on "Legacy in Marriage" on May 19th.
